

ComancheZOOM for Thursday, April 24

Topic: Open Mic – plus

Turn backs, Steep Turns & the “Impossible Turn”

Getting this week’s Zoom organized hit a small delay. Let’s just say there was a bit of drama at the OK Corral yesterday. But now we’re back on track.

You're invited to a lively, open-mic session with a focus on something every pilot should think about:

- Turn backs, steep turns, and the so-called “impossible turn.”

This topic has literally saved lives. Early in ComancheZOOM’s history, a pilot called us the day after this discussion to say the information we shared made the difference in a real-world emergency. That’s the kind of impact this community can have.

We're not expecting another call like that (though we wouldn’t mind it), but the message remains: it pays to be prepared - even better if you’ve practiced.

There was a strong response to doing a Part 2 in future.
